GED Testing Service recognizes Onsego as a trusted publisher that has developed curriculum materials that are 100% aligned with the GED test.

Onsego was established in 2016 under the name Covcel. Due to phonetic similarities with COVID-19, we changed the name to Onsego in 2021.

Plans and Pricing

Onsego offers 2 types of plans:

- 1 GED subject prep- It costs $29. This is a one-time fee for 6 months of access.
- 4 GED subject prep + 4 bonuses such as GED Ready vouchers and a GED calculator course. This plan costs $79. This is a one-time fee for 6 months of access or $99 for 12 months of access.

The process of getting a GED Diploma:

Students get a GED diploma if they pass 4 GED subject tests. These tests include Social Studies, Science, Language Arts, and Math.

GED Testing Service is the sole provider of the GED Test. To take the test, students must schedule it on GED.com. The price of the GED test is determined by states. It can be anything from $4 to $40 per subject, and some states offer it free.

When a student reaches at least a 145 score out of 200 on every GED subject, GED Testing Service notifies the state where the student lives, and the state issues a High School Equivalency Diploma.

This diploma has the same value as a High School diploma, and students can apply to college and get better jobs.
